Common position on the proposal for a directive of the European Parliament and of the Council on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data by competent authorities for the purposes of prevention, investigation, detection or prosecution of criminal offences or the execution of criminal penalties, and the free movement of such data (COM[2012] 10)

and the proposal for a regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data (COM[2012] 11)

MPs from 16 national parliaments' chambers of the European Union met on September 17th, 2014 at the National Assembly to review the legislative package on the protection of personal data.

MPs believe that this legislative package addresses an increasing concern for European citizens, and should be supported.

They also consider that the new impetus given to negotiations since October 2013 should be welcomed, in particular regarding the important advances made on the management of the international data's transfers and the one-stop-shop mechanism which has to guarantee the European citizens' right of appeal as well as a uniform application of regulations.

The new European framework should under no circumstance lead to a regression in relation to the existing protections in various Member States.

They emphasize the fact that it is more necessary than ever to culminate in the adoption by 2015 of a general framework to ensure the respect of the fundamental right to data protection and to effectively impose European values regarding protection and security of personal data.
