A strong European policy to support Small and Medium- sized enterprises (SMEs) and entrepreneurs 2015-2020 Public consultation on the Small Business Act (SBA)

Fields marked with * are mandatory.

Introduction & background

Since its adoption in 2008, the Small Business Act (SBA) has proven its worth as a policy tool in support of the small and medium enterprises (SMEs). Various initiatives have been taken at both EU and national level to improve the environment in which these businesses operate and help them grow.

It is now time to reflect on what can be done in the years that lie ahead to make life easier for SMEs.

The Commission has drafted a consultation document including the on-going measures and the new proposals (see the link below).

This consultation is designed to collect feedback on the new initiatives set out in the consultation document.

Please read it before you complete the questionnaire.

The Commission proposes to review the guidelines on impact assessments with specific attention to mainstreaming the SME Test, and to encourage Member States to systematically introduce the SME Test or an equivalent system in their decision-making process. These actions, are highly supported by the Netherlands. In addition to these actions, the Netherlands would like to propose two additional areas in which action could be taken. First, we would like to see a shift in a focus on administrative burdens towards (substantive) compliance costs. Secondly, the Netherlands would like to see that the Commission focusses on reducing the administrative burdens and compliance cost of European legislation by establishing exceptions for SMEs for new and/or existing rules and regulations on the European level. In case this is not possible, we would like to see a simplification of these rules and regulations.

Inviting member states to fully commit to the targets of €100 of cost and three days for starting up a company and to the target of one month to have the necessary licenses is a good initiative. We do want to stress that the Commission should focus on self-employed SMEs and not on private limited companies. In practice most SMEs are self-employed. In the Netherlands, a self-employed business can be set up within a day and below €100. However, when it comes to setting up a private limited, this takes more time and costs more because the notary is involved.

Access to finance is vital for SMEs' and the economic growth in Europe. In many Member States, SMEs are reliant on banks as their main source of finance. Banks will continue to be essential in providing credit to companies, but the rejection rates rose during the crisis in most countries and there is a significant risk that as economic growth returns, banks will be unable to meet the funding gap. Therefore, more options and diversification in the supply of finance is necessary. Despite the existing financial instruments or alternatives to traditional bank lending, SMEs are often either not aware of them or do not know how to access funding. Thus, every effort should be undertaken to strengthen the dissemination of information on the existing financing possibilities. The Netherlands supports the initiatives suggested by the Commission: all new legislative proposals regarding financial market legislation should not adversely affect the interests of SMEs; public administrations should facilitate the emergence of alternative sources of SME financing (such as crowd funding, venture capital, business angels, etcetera); and all stakeholders should further disseminate best practices (e.g. on mezzanine financing, securitization, guarantees and supply chain financing).

4 - Promoting market access for SMEs

In the area of access to markets several new initiatives are mentioned. First of all, when it comes to internationalization the Enterprise Europe Network (EEN) is a valuable network for disseminating information on doing international business. The Netherlands would like to suggest that the upgrade of the network should mainly concentrate on making the network services more effective. Also, the Netherlands would like to emphasize that further expanding the network to third countries and increasing the number of Missions for Growth outside the EU are not considered as priorities.

Removing barriers in the Single Market should remain the focal point of EU-activity in the area of access to markets. The Netherlands has emphasized the importance of taking further steps in the areas of services and the digital single market on several occasions. We therefore encourage further action of the EU in these areas.

The Netherlands encourages new actions to further promote entrepreneurship and to improve the framework conditions for SMEs. We would like to encourage the Commission to not merely focus on establishing an increase in the number of SMEs in Europe, but to pay particular attention to the growth of existing companies in terms of employment, productivity and innovation.

Giving priority in providing a second chance for honest entrepreneurs is important. Furthermore, it is imperative to make sure that in case of fraudulent activities have taken place action is taken. The stigma that rests on bankruptcy is mainly caused by fraudulent activities that are not dealt with.

Finally, the Netherlands does not support further action for the promotion of measures aimed at young entrepreneurs, female entrepreneurs, senior entrepreneurs and other "types" of entrepreneurs. Entrepreneurship policy in the Netherlands focuses on increasing the quality and the level of ambition of entrepreneurship. At the core of this policy is the idea that it is more important what you do, than where you come from, if you are male or female, or other differences. We therefore emphasize making sure that everyone has access to the general instruments for entrepreneurship.

6 - Boosting skills development

6.1 How important is to launch a Commission initiative, comprising employment, education & enterprise dimensions, to overcome the shortage of skilled labour by promoting the following measures?

	Very important	Important	Less important	Not important at all
Training schemes for skilled workers directly involving SMEs from the concerned sector	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
A dual system in vocational training	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
A better image of skilled crafts & technical jobs in SMEs	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

6.2 Any further suggestions or comments?

When it comes to promoting entrepreneurship and improving the framework conditions, skills and education are very important. Especially, the exchange of best practices should be encouraged in this respect. Specific action at the European level is not very desirable as there are many differences between education systems throughout the European Union (EU). A promising example of action that has been taken in this area in the Netherlands lands, is the establishment of the National Technology Pact, which was signed last year by 60 organizations from education, employers, labor unions, regions and national government. The purpose of the National Technology Pact is to tackle the lack of skilled personnel and to improve the (qualitative) match between supply and demand for labor.

Concluding remarks: The Netherlands considers Entrepreneurship policy a matter of national competence. Each Member State has its own challenges to entrepreneurship and must address these issues at a national level in accordance to their situation. We consider it important that any action at European level are limited to areas where there is a clear added value and impact of a European approach. We see a clear European added value in supporting access to finance for entrepreneurs, reducing administrative burden, strengthening the internal market, stimulating innovation and an open and competitive market.
